You can put together a snappy looking screen saver in a matter of minutes. – BVS Reviews

I've made three screen savers so far and have enjoyed it tremendously. – S.U., Tampa, FL

Do you intend to make money with your screen savers?

Then you will want to purchase our professional version that grants you the perpetual rights to use Screen Creator for any commercial purposes you desire. Our pro version contains additional features not found on the single user version, and is personalized with your own company name as the creator of the screen saver.

We have dozens of happy commercial license version (CLV) users – here are some of the ways they are using the pro version... an amateur photographer selling screen savers of hot air balloon festivals, a member of a classic car club selling screen savers of their annual rally and meetings, several professional advertising agencies doing creative work (trade show demos of clients products), and even members of community organizations and churches looking for ways to raise money. These users have all realized that the professional version is a great investment. Visit our web site at www.individualsoftware.com/commercial.html for pricing information and ordering procedures.
